

2017 MASTER CATALOG

DEAR USERS, FRIENDS, ALLIES AND BUSINESS PARTNERS,

The HTX Lines Project was created in 2016 as a whole new concept of product development within the Helikon-Tex®. Everything went according to a plan, and so we enter the second year of its activity with new energy and new ideas. Our assets are right people, combining to create one of the most innovative design teams in the industry. Our new approach has revolutionized the R&D division, enabling us to present you several dozen entirely new, original products throughout the Range, Urban, Outdoor, Bushcraft and Medical product lines.

Our products are no longer only used by the uniformed services, which know and appreciate our offer for years, but also shooters, militaria aficionados, rescue team members and a wide circle of outdoorsmen. Our designers care to make the offer more and more versatile, and fitting the ever changing and growing requirements of the customers. One such example may be the Range Line. You need range clothes, shooting target, chest rig, or perhaps a compact gun bag? We are delivering a complex range solution. We have everything you may need – and more. Most of our products are now modular, to allow combining parts of different lines. Thanks to that our Medical Line first aid pouch would fit either a vehicle or a range kit bag. This year we push that a step further with our Versatile Insert System®, allowing practically unending variety of configuration customizing, from waist bag to backpacks, to bags.

We cooperate with the best specialists, not only in our country – but beyond the borders as well. We use the comments and exchange experiences with Khyber Interactive Associates and its leader instructor Dr. Wes Doss. Through our contacts in Polish Special Forces and cooperation with the Hyde Definition company we have created the new camouflage pattern, the PenCott® WildWood®, which perfectly supplements our offer.

There are reasons to be proud of!

Stay tuned for more!

The HELIKON – TEX® Team

WildWood® is a new pattern developed at the request of Polish Special Forces, through a deep collaboration between Hyde Definition® and Helikon-Tex®. It is based on the well-proven and widely used PenCott® pattern geometry. Creating WildWood® we strived to create a pattern optimal for transitional and woodland areas of the moderate climates of mostly Central-Eastern Europe. We started the process by re-appraising the GreenZone®, adding more brown shades, while de-saturating greens. We used in-the-field digital colour sampling to create the palette for WildWood® and then evaluated several iterations as digital prints in-the-field. Our analyses then informed the process to optimize and finalize the colour values and standards for production.

WildWood® incorporates all of the features that make the PenCott® patterns the most advanced and effective concealment solutions on the market today.

3-in-1 / 360° pattern geometry: the inclusion of large, medium and small fractal shapes makes the patterns effective at close, mid, and long range – and, because of its non-linear orientation, the full effectiveness of the pattern is retained whether the wearer is standing, kneeling or prone.

Depth + Blending + Disruption: the combination of multi-sized fractal shapes, high-difference boundary layers and a hypoacuitively dithered micro-pattern creates the illusion of depth, whilst also creating a pattern that both blends into the terrain and disrupts the shape of the wearer.

Naturalistic tones and textures: the complex, hybrid design of WildWood® also delivers a pattern that looks more 'organic', natural and textured than typical digital or analogue patterns.

The WildWood® pattern is the optimum solution for concealment wherever the "greenery" is a little bit toned-down or drier. WildWood® complements our existing GreenZone® pattern for verdant environments, our BadLands® pattern for transitional environments, our SnowDrift® pattern for winter environments and our SandStorm® pattern for arid / desert environments. The WildWood® and GreenZone® patterns remain compatible.
